

Harvard Model Congress

Boston 2024

Dear Agents,

Welcome to Harvard Model Congress 2024! Our names are Kai, Ella, Nyla, and Da'vion, and we are looking forward to chairing the Federal Bureau of Investigation this year.

This committee will be a unique opportunity for you to experience American government, particularly its enforcement branch, and to meet other students from across the country who share your passion for politics. You will be exposed to a great diversity of opinions, and you will have the chance to broaden and question your own perspectives on topical issues.

As your chairs, we are excited to make your HMC experience both intellectually stimulating and a ton of fun.

Feel free to shoot us an email at any point to introduce yourselves and ask any questions you may have between now and the conference. We encourage you to start stepping into your roles as agents by staying attuned to current events and keeping an ear out for developments in the issues we will be focusing on in February.

Now a little about us:

Ella Wesson is a senior at Harvard from Manhasset, NY. This is her tenth HMC Conference and second year doing Special Programs for HMC Boston. At Harvard, she studies the history of science and psychology, and is also on the pre-medical track. Outside of class, she edits for the Harvard Undergraduate Health Policy Review and plays the flute for the Mozart Society Orchestra. HMC has been her single favorite extracurricular activity, and can't wait to meet all of you!

Kai Reed is a junior at Harvard originally from Rockville, MD. At Harvard, he studies computer science, and outside of coursework, works in software engineering within the tech industry. Kai's strong passion for music manifests in his piano playing as well as his participation in dance groups, like the West African Omo Naija dance troupe. Always looking forward to competition, he also enjoys playing sports from basketball to spikeball to weightlifting. Kai can't wait to work with the talented, self-motivated delegates that chose the FBI committee this year!

Da'Vion Tatum is a Junior at Harvard studying Biomedical Engineering and History & Science. He was born and raised in Houston, TX, and has a passion for health equity and social justice. Despite not having the opportunity to do anything like HMC in high school, Da'Vion is extremely excited to be able to bring this opportunity to students in the Boston conference. Outside of HMC, Da'Vion is involved in a variety of health advocacy organizations and continues to follow his passions of making the world a better place.

Nyla Nasir is a first-year at Harvard from Ontario, Canada. This is her first HMC Conference. At Harvard, she plans on studying bio, and is on the pre-med track. Aside from school, she is an analyst for the Harvard Biotechnology Club and doing multimedia for the Crimson. She can't wait to work with the talented, self-motivated delegates that chose the FBI committee.

We look forward to meeting you and hope to hear from you soon!

Sincerely,

Kai, Ella, Nyla, and Da'vion
